Consulting Engineers
Political Action Committee 2008-09

During the 2007 session of the Legislature, TEXAS CEC was engaged in many issues that will shape the future of the industry in coming years. These included promoting design-build and project delivery systems in ways acceptable to engineering firms, protecting the ability of local toll road agencies to do projects, defining the parameters of state agency policies regarding cost recovery from design consultant errors and omissions, limiting indemnification clauses in public contracts, working for a good Samaritan law, and many other causes.

As we look to the 2009 session, transportation issues will continue to be a priority, including funding needs. We fully expect a challenge from the opponents of qualifications-based selection, one that we must be prepared to meet head-on.

Your CEPAC investment helps protect your industry by helping us support candidates and officeholders who share our goals of protecting and enhancing private sector businesses.
